WHAT IS THE PROGRAMME ALL ABOUT?

Crude Palm Oil Futures (FCPO) is one of the agriculture commodity derivatives which is actively traded on Bursa Malaysia Derivatives. FCPO is widely traded by many industry players such as fund managers, financial institutions and oils and fats industry players for managing price fluctuations in the market. Trading FCPO allows you as an investor to gain leveraged exposure to the notional value of the crude palm oil with a relatively small amount of capital. However, having little experience and knowledge in FCPO trading can get you into trouble by increasing your potential risk and losses.

Discover all about trading in FCPO using technical analysis, tools in technical analysis to identify trends and examine a case study on moving average & trading psychology. All these and many more will be covered in this webinar to prepare you to become an informed FCPO trader.

WHAT DO WE WANT TO ACHIEVE?

This programme is designed to provide the participants with knowledge and skills to be a smart trader in the derivatives market focusing on crude palm oil futures trading utilising technical analysis.
