BEHAVIOURAL MODULE 1 - Insights into the Compliance Role and Essential Skillsets

PROGRAMME OVERVIEW

The changes in today's regulatory and business environments demand different skills on compliance officers. There is a pressing need to upgrade their skills and influence to manage the ever-evolving regulatory changes in the increasingly competitive business landscape.

This course provides comprehensive, practical insights and strategies for enhancing the behavioural skills relevant to participants starting out as compliance officers in the capital market. This course focuses on practical strategies in demonstrating the essential behavioural skills to enable them to discharge their functional and advisory roles effectively.

PROGRAMME OBJECTIVE

This programme will enable participants to recommend an action plan to mitigate compliance issues while anticipating challenges from the business units and communicating with the regulator.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

By the end of this programme, participants will be able to:

- identify the must-have skillsets for compliance officers
- describe the role of compliance officers in intermediaries
- determine individual competency gaps to work on based on the skillset and role
- interpret the big picture in determining business and regulatory needs
- identify issues and challenges surrounding the responsibilities of compliance officers
- discuss the elements of good judgement in dealing with issues of business challenges and regulatory expectation
- develop an action plan to affect change towards system improvement

BEHAVIOURAL MODULE 2 - Thinking & Communication Skills for Compliance Officers

PROGRAMME OVERVIEW

The key roles Compliance Officers need to focus on are advising, educating, and monitoring. Practical skills necessary to carry out the compliance function effectively are thinking and communication skills to interact with all levels of the organisation.

This course focuses on participants embarking on the compliance function where they will be exposed to problem solving approaches which would be useful in their roles and responsibilities. Participants will also be able to convey ideas and information by applying the communication process to ensure clarity, persuasiveness, and confidence.

PROGRAMME OBJECTIVE

This programme will enable participants to recommend a solution for a problem or issue supported by possible options in a given situation related to the compliance function.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

By the end of this programme, participants will be able to:

- describe thinking and problem-solving frameworks and fundamentals
- determine the steps to enhance thinking skills to assess compliance matters
- explain the concept and process of problem-solving and decision-making in overseeing the compliance of the relevant rules and regulations
- identify potential decision-making strategies in dealing with possible misconduct
- develop effective communication techniques to manage compliance conversations

BEHAVIOURAL MODULE 3 - Networking & Relationship Building in Compliance

PROGRAMME OVERVIEW

The compliance unit is essential in any capital market intermediary as it serves to ensure that everyone working in the capital market intermediaries adheres to laws and regulations. In order to carry out its function effectively, the compliance unit should establish a strong network and relationship with internal and external parties to ensure the smooth running of the business and at the same time comply with laws and regulations.

The course will enable participants to create networking opportunities and build relationships with both internal and external parties to enable meaningful conversations on compliance to be carried out. This course introduces techniques and strategies to build confidence in networking among various stakeholders. Participants will take part in discussions, interactive tasks and role plays to immediately put into practice the techniques and strategies taught.

PROGRAMME OBJECTIVE

Participants will be able to build effective networks between the compliance unit and various stakeholders and avoid common pitfalls when building business relationships.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

By the end of this programme, participants will be able to:

- describe the general concept of business networking and its importance in the compliance fraternity
- explain the process of starting effective networking relationships and building up a rapport with counterparties
- discuss the common pitfalls when building business relationships among different stakeholders
- apply the appropriate techniques when asking questions to counterparties
- articulate the importance of establishing meaningful business relationships and effective stakeholder engagement

COLLABORATIVE LEARNING

PROGRAMME OVERVIEW

Today's compliance function is not just about ticking the boxes on a checklist and ensuring that everyone is abiding by laws, rules, and regulations. It's also about making a positive impact on the organisation and its business through a robust and ethical compliance programme to prevent reputational and economic nightmares. CCMP-C1, Essentials of Compliance: Case Study Series & Communities of Practice (Real-Life Scenarios) will feature real-life case studies and scenarios to discuss and explore the core compliance issues and their implications faced by businesses today. Through discussions participants will deliberate on the approaches taken when faced with similar situations, the rationale behind the decision made, consider the best compliance practices, as well as learn from others within the industry.

PROGRAMME OBJECTIVE

This programme is designed to give insights and equip participants in the capital market with an in-depth understanding and approaches to dealing with compliance issues through real-life case studies and scenarios ranging from essential compliance concepts, functions, approaches, tools and skillsets on capital market laws, principles and regulatory requirements, technical areas, and general activities of intermediaries.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

By the end of this programme, participants will be able to:

- identify the core compliance issues faced in the capital market industry, its implications and the approaches that can be taken to mitigate them
